

IGCSE Art and Design (0400) Coursework Training Handbook (Interactive PDF)

The Coursework Training Handbook for IGCSE Art & Design (0400) is in the form of an interactive pdf document. It contains large image files arranged in multiple layers as this facilitates easy navigation and access to content. This format is particularly suitable for this subject. As a result however, the overall file size of this document is too large to allow customers to practically download it from Teacher Support. We would ask you therefore to go to our Publications Catalogue at the link below to order your copy on CD. Only one copy need be bought per Centre to allow multiple applications for accreditation. There is a small fee for the CD to cover production costs.

Please note that the Coursework Training Handbook is an interactive pdf containing two linked pdf files. Whenever it is copied to a different location both these files must be selected and copied together to maintain the link between them. Should the link be broken, both pdfs can still be used but you will not be able to automatically jump between the two.

Technical requirements

For the best viewing performance of the IGCSE Art & Design (0400) Coursework Training Handbook pdf please use operating system Windows 7 or above or view on a Mac. The document will function on Windows XP or Windows 2000 or above though you may experience some flickering. Should this occur please close the pdf and re-open it.

The handbook contains a large number of image files and you should be patient in allowing time for these to load, especially when viewing the Supporting Portfolios.
